

Choose your path to Virginia Tech

Better English. Better future.

LCI

Language and Culture Institute

There is no better way for you to improve your English language skills and experience American culture than by studying at the Virginia Tech Language and Culture Institute. For more than 40 years, we have been helping students like you succeed at colleges and universities in the United States.

Intensive English Program

The Intensive English Program is an academic preparation course designed to help you make the transition to American academic life through full-time instruction in English as a second language.

- Six start dates, with rolling admission, in the fall, spring, and summer
- 10 levels of instruction, from beginning to advanced
- Advanced computer-assisted learning center
- Small class sizes for individual attention
- TOEFL iBT Preparation classes offered each term
- All faculty have master's degrees or doctorates and certificates of advanced study.

In the classroom

As a student, you will enroll in two core classes plus an optional elective each term. You can expect about 20-24 hours of classroom instruction per week. Core classes include instruction in reading and writing, listening and speaking, grammar, and pronunciation.

Study near Washington, D.C.

You can choose to study at our main campus in Blacksburg or in our new location just minutes from the nation's capital. Our state-of-the-art learning center in Fairfax, Virginia, is near a major subway stop, providing easy access to all of Washington's tourist sites.

Admission to the LCI

Admission to the Language and Culture Institute is open to any student who is at least 17 years old. A TOEFL score is not required for admission.

For details on how to apply, go to www.lci.vt.edu/apply.

Conditional Admission Program

Virginia Tech offers undergraduate conditional admissions to students who meet the academic requirements but don't meet the minimum English proficiency standards (TOEFL iBT 80, with no section subscore less than 16; IELTS 6.5, with no section subscore below 6.5; PTE 53). Conditionally admitted students must first successfully complete the Intensive English Program before being allowed to enroll in university courses.

Eligibility for conditional admission

- The most competitive applicants present high school equivalent grade-point averages of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale (88%) for engineering majors and at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale (75%) for other majors.
- You do not need to submit SAT/ACT scores for consideration of conditional admission.
- Transfer students from U.S. or foreign universities or from U.S.-based English language programs are ineligible.
- For more details, go to www.lci.vt.edu/cap.
